

INTERNATIONAL SUMMER SCHOOL AT THE FACULTY OF SOCIAL SCIENCES

Deconstructing Climate Change: Global Environment Politics and Challenges

21st — 25th June 2021
Ljubljana, Slovenia

Univerza v Ljubljani
Fakulteta za družbene vede

CARE
4 CLIMATE

- Obtain 4 ECTS*
- Address Global Issues
- Participate in a dialogue with Experts in the field

Academia Aestiva Internationalis is an International Summer School with a tradition of educating young professionals and students in the field of International Relations and Human Rights.

Our mission for the past 4 years has been perfecting the knowledge of participants on a certain topic, by introducing and deconstructing all its main and side information. This year's topic are environmental rights.

Content for Summer School 2021

Historical overview of international environmental law • privatization of water resources • water disputes • ocean pollution and extinction of flora and fauna • environmental skepticism • environmental migration • addressing the environmental issues and current/future actions within the international community • renewable energy sources • case studies on environmental policies • circular economy development.

* Throughout the summer school and before, the participants will work on a specific problem with a mentor, that will later be turned into an essay. Active participation and 90 % attendance at lectures are required to be able to obtain 4 ECTS. Participants are not obliged to gain ECTS, they can simply participate in the Summer School and receive a certificate of participation.

Webpage: <https://www.academiaaestivainternationalis.com>
E-mail: aainternationalis@gmail.com

Where?

Faculty of Social Sciences,
Ljubljana, Slovenia.

When?

June 21.–25., 2021.

Who?

Students of Bachelor and Master programmes.

How?

- CV
- Motivation letter